Customer Access

? Customer Pages? (20 C, 133 P)

Please note that Customers are restricted to view only certain namespaces. This includes Categories to facilitate navigation and Help, but excludes what is known as the main namespace, which is reserved for internal use only.

Therefore any page other than this one and the login page that does not begin "Cust:", "Help:" or "Category:" may be shown as a link, but cannot be opened (you will be shown an access forbidden message). The page links are not hidden, as they may indicate a resource that could be moved to an accessible namespace. The full list of namespaces and who can access them is listed on the namespaces page linked above.

For navigation purposes, all Cust namespace pages are categorised here: Category:Customer Pages or in one of the sub-categories, so this is the best place to start looking for a page.

You should also visit your 'Preferences' page (linked top right of screen) to make sure your searches are not going to return pages in the main namespace, which will improve your success rate. For other tips on using the wiki, please read Help:Wiki Tips.

It is not current policy to permit customers any editing rights, so if you feel a page could be better placed, or needs correcting, please email the wiki admin (see above) with suggested changes.
